PRESS RELEASE

PRO MOTION REARING AVIARY

Hellmann Poultry introduces unique cage-free pullet system

PRO Motion, the unique pullet rearing system by Hellmann Poultry, will be exhibited at IPPE Atlanta at Hellmann's booth #B29017.

PRO Motion is the "next generation in cage-free rearing" and offers among others the following advantages compared to first generation pullet rearing systems:

- Birds can be trained much longer and on all levels inside the system before they are released to the litter area allowing them to develop much better muscle tissue
- An integrated water training system helps with distributing the birds evenly throughout the system
- Better and easier vaccination methods
- Easier bird management
- Labor saving setup

In short: PRO Motion delivers much better trained birds, leading to better performance once birds are moved to the aviary production system with more birds laying eggs inside the nests and less risks for system- or floor eggs during the production phase.
