Innovative Poultry Products Brings a Complete Daily Mortality Solution to IPPE 2027

Poultry Hawk® and Ravager® work together to take the hardest chore out of broiler production

OLAR, S.C. – November 24, 2026 – Every broiler grower deals with daily mortality. Birds have to be collected, carried and disposed of, and that work falls on the same people, day after day. At IPPE 2027, Innovative Poultry Products (IPP) will show how two machines built to work together can take that labor off the daily list.

Stop carrying buckets.

The Poultry Hawk® trolley system moves mortality pickup off the worker's back. Instead of hauling heavy buckets down the house, growers collect birds in a trolley that carries the load for them. That means less time spent on pickup and less physical strain, which helps make farming more sustainable for growers for longer. With more than 4,100 units in the field, the Poultry Hawk® is a proven part of daily routines on broiler farms.

Dispose of it on-farm in 24 hours.

The Ravager® Thermal Dehydrator transforms mortality into a dry, stable by-product in a single 24-hour cycle, right on the farm. There is no hauling off site and no waiting on a pickup, so disposal stays under the grower's control and supports biosecurity. Some farms spread the by-product on fields as a fertilizer, and some use it as a high-protein livestock feed supplement (growers should check state and local rules).

One system, from the house to disposal.

Used together, the Poultry Hawk® and Ravager® cover the whole daily process, from pickup to disposal, with equipment built for broiler operations. IPP builds its equipment in Olar, South Carolina.

See it at IPPE 2027. Visit IPP at Booth 36043 at the Georgia World Congress Center in Atlanta, January 26–28, 2027, to see both machines and talk with the team about how they fit your operation.
