CHORE-TIME ADDS MOBILE APP FOR CHORE-TRONICS® 3 CONTROLLER

MILFORD, Indiana, U.S.A. — Chore-Time has launched a new Mobile App that lets poultry managers monitor and control their poultry house systems using their mobile phone or device.

Growers can interact with their CHORE-TRONICS® 3 System remotely using a mobile server and an Android™ or iOS mobile device. “It’s like having a control panel for your entire poultry operation with you at all times,” stated Bob Christenson, Product Manager for Controls at Chore-Time. “The new CHORE-TRONICS 3 Mobile App displays current conditions for all of your houses and lets you make adjustments on the fly.”

Current Conditions

The current conditions screen on the CHORE-TRONICS 3 Mobile App gives managers remote access to critical production information.

- The set, average and variable-speed temperatures
- Current ventilation mode
- Today’s water and feed consumed
- Static pressure
- Relative humidity
- Air speed
- Current bird weight
- Outside temperature
- CO₂ level
- PDS water column height

Alert Notification System

CHORE-TRONICS 3 is also available with an optional BROADCASTER™ Alert System, which delivers alerts through text notifications or landline and mobile calls. The system is designed to notify multiple contacts, in order, until an acknowledgement code is entered.

“It is crucial for managers to take immediate action if something goes wrong with the climate control or other systems in a poultry house,” said Christenson. “The CHORE-TRONICS 3 Mobile App and BROADCASTER System work together to provide that visibility and control.”
