THE GLOBAL FACTORY-DIRECT MARKETPLACE

Human Grade Glucosamine Approved by NASC

The National Animal Supplement Council (NASC) is a highly respected association with very strict quality control requirements that must be completed prior to membership into their Preferred Supplier Program. As stated on the NASC website:

"Our program ensures all suppliers of Raw Materials and other critical components meet comprehensive standards for testing and other specifications to ensure our members can buy from trusted companies."

ingredientsonline.com is now offering human grade Glucosamine HCL-80 Mesh that has passed the comprehensive standards and testing set by the NASC and has been accepted into their Preferred Supplier Program.

If you are formulating with glucosamine for human or animal consumption, rest assured that the NASC has tested and approved our Glucosamine HCL-80 Mesh and we have U.S. stock. Members can click HERE and login to see real-time inventory in our CA and NJ warehouses with free shipping to qualified areas.

Registration is free at ingredientsonline.com, so click HERE to register. Once registered, you can scroll through the pages and experience our complete transparency on factory of origin, tiered pricing, U.S. inventory and downloadable QC documents.
