Vetagro is an Italian company that, since 1982, is specialized in microencapsulated products. With headquarters in the heart of the Italian food-valley and subsidiaries in Chicago, Budapest and Istanbul we deliver a constantly updated, cost-effective microencapsulation technology to protect nutrients and additives and tailored to match digestive capacity and feed transit time. Our product line spans from feed additives for poultry and swine to nutritional products for ruminants and everything is 100% made in Italy in our state-of-the art facility. All our products and services are supported by peer-reviewed scientific research, which uniquely differentiates our technical team. In vitro and in vivo studies are conducted to assess animal response in continuous cooperation with research institutes, universities, regulatory and health authorities, laboratories, private companies and consultants. We pride ourselves in being a science-based, “excellence certified” company and on top of regulatory approvals worldwide.

We aren't from around here. We approach things differently.
