

At Silvercote, we understand that you want to provide the best environment to ensure bird health and lower your energy costs.

ThermaCare Stable is a revolutionary airtight, envelope solution with stabilized insulation for ceiling and walls that we have designed specifically for the Ag market. This stabilized insulation system will not be impacted by shifting, settling or decomposing insulation so it requires no future insulation and significantly improves bird performance.

ThermaCare Stable is a key component to the creation of an ideal airtight house environment. This helps to protect your flock from radiant heat and condensation which leads to better litter conditions will ultimately eliminate a variety of potential health problems.
