AUDITORS CONDUCT ON-FARM, PROCESSING FACILITY, AND TRACEABILITY INSPECTIONS.

Inspections are requested by businesses throughout the United States who want to label their products as Certified Humane®. Auditors travel to inquiring businesses to conduct inspections and there are opportunities for international assignments as well. A master's degree in animal science or a veterinary degree is required along with experience with the species to be inspected. Auditors must participate in an initial training by Certified Humane® to become familiar with our Animal Care Standards, standards, administrative procedures, confidentiality policy, and protocols for interacting with businesses at inspection sites.

Auditors may accept or decline assignments, thereby choosing the time commitment. Intermittent communication with office staff at Certified Humane® is required for scheduling and reporting purposes.

We provide complete reimbursement for approved travel, hotel and meal expenses incurred to conduct inspections. Payment is issued via direct deposit to auditors after inspection reports have been submitted. Annual 1099s are issued to auditors for all fees paid. Email resume and cover letter to info@certifiedhumane.org.
